PORK JOWL

Pork Jowl is from the jowl of the pig. Ours is cured, smoked & prepared much like its relative bacon. At Burgers' Smokehouse, we apply a dry rub cure seasoning, age the seasoned jowl before slowly smoking it and then packaging it (either whole or sliced.) Full of flavor & with multiple uses, it's a must-try if you like traditional bacon. We offer both Original Hickory Smoked and Peppered Hickory Smoked jowl.

HOW TO COOK CURED PORK JOWL

TO PREPARE:

1. If sliced – it is ready for any of the cooking methods below.
2. If a chunk – slice into long slices, chunks or dice depending on usage intentions. Note - recommend using a sharp knife since the chunk jowl still has the rind on.

TO PAN FRY:

1. Arrange slices in cold skillet.
2. Cook slowly over low heat – be sure to turn the slices of jowl while frying until crisp & golden brown.
3. Remove slices & drain on a paper towel.

TO MICROWAVE:

1. Place slices between paper towels.
2. We recommend, cooking 4 slices on a high for three minutes.
3. Then cook at 30 second intervals until desired crispness and doneness is achieved.
